THE DR. BRUCE BAKER AAC EVALUATION CENTER

Speech-Language Pathologists, alongside occupational and physical therapists at Bridgeway Therapy Center, provide individualized AAC evaluations (augmentative alternative communication) to assess the communication needs of children and adults with limited verbal communication skills. Our evaluating therapists are highly trained and experienced with a variety of AAC systems and users.

“By teaching, we learn.” -Dr. Bruce Baker

- We are committed to an interdisciplinary and clinically holistic approach to evaluate potential candidates for their personalized AAC systems.
- We plan to provide opportunities for team members including family, caregivers, school staff and SLPs to receive training once the system is in place to promote carryover of each individual’s communication system.
- If you are interested in obtaining a personal communication device for yourself, a child, or an adult to support the individual’s language and/or communication, please complete the intake form on our website. - Our evaluating team also offers virtual AAC evaluations if it is necessary and appropriate for the client. Please fill out our initial intake form and an SLP will discuss this option with you over the phone.
