

EARLY INTERVENTION (EI) PROGRAM

The Early Intervention (EI) Program helps young children (birth to 3 years) who are not learning, playing, growing, talking, or walking like other children their age.

The program works with your family to set meaningful goals for your child and create a plan to help your child and your family meet these goals.

<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. A service coordinator will contact you within 10 days of the referral to explain the EI services, begin the evaluation process, and select an agency to use for the evaluation. (This same person will continue to provide assistance while your child is in the program.) Note: If you do not hear from an EI agency within 30 days from the referral, contact your social worker for next steps.2. Your child will have an evaluation by a specialist from the agency you select. This evaluation will tell you if your child is behind in developing skills compared to other children their age.3. If your child has a delay, they may be eligible for EI services (e.g. occupational, physical or speech therapy services.)	 A consent form to initiate or resume in-person services should be completed.
