

Information on Youth Violence Reduction Resources

These resources may be helpful if you have:

- had someone in your life killed or hurt because of violence
- been injured because of violence
- a child who fights a lot in school or in the neighborhood
- if you are tired of violence and want to help make it stop.

Anti-Violence Partnership

Phone: (215)-567-6776. Address: 2000 Hamilton St., Suite 204, Philadelphia, PA 19130

Website: <http://www.avpphila.org> Anti-Violence Partnership provides a range of services and resources for the traumatized victims and families related to homicide. Legal advice is provided in addition to other resource available for victims of crimes. Focus is to resolve conflicts nonviolently. The program is designated for victims, co-victims and survivors of homicide or homicide attempt.

Mothers In Charge

Phone: (215)-228-1718.

Website: <http://www.mothersincharge.org> Mothers In Charge was established by mothers who had children killed by homicide. They provide violence prevention education and intervention for youth and community organizations. They also provide support groups for families affected by violence.

Every Murder is Real (E.M.I.R)

Phone: (215)-848-4068. Email: info@emirphilly.org

Website: <http://emirphilly.org/> E.M.I.R provides support for families affected by homicide. They provide education, advocacy, and support services.

Philadelphia Anti-Drug/Anti-Violence Network (PAAN)

Phone: (215)-940-0550. Address: 2700 North 17th Street, Suite 200, Lehigh Pavilion, Philadelphia, PA 19132

Website: <https://www.paan1989.org/> Community safety is promoted through direct services that impact drug and violence problems that youth face. The organization responds to crisis situations, conducts conflict resolution sessions, education and training programs, responds to hotline calls, and more. The program is geared towards at-risk youth and promotes positive human development and transformation.

CHOP Center for Violence Prevention

Phone: (215)-590-3118.

Website: <https://violence.chop.edu/> The program implements and evaluates programs that enhance resiliency of communities affected by violence, and reduce the frequency and impact of youth violence in Southwest Philadelphia. Violence prevention is tailored towards 10-14 year olds from various experiences or life situations.

CDC Injury Center's Youth Violence Prevention

Website: <https://www.cdc.gov/violenceprevention/youthviolence/index.html> The website provides information about youth violence, risk and protective factors, prevention strategies, and much more.

Cradle to Grave

Website: <https://www.templestafetynet.org/cradletograve> A hospital-based violence prevention program that offers youth a behind-the-scenes look into the physical, emotion, and social realities of firearm injury.